Previous AQIS use category: Category 8: Liquid Hand Soap Type A. Liquid hand soap for hand washing to be used from fixed dispenser sufficiently remote from prescribed goods so as not to create a hazard, for use in all areas. (As per AQIS Guidelines for the approval of Chemical Compounds for use in Export Registered Meat Establishments)

Intended use of Product:

Smart-San Antibacterial Foam Soap is a hand soap suitable for use in food preparation facilities, including export registered meat facilities. Wet hands with water and apply soap to hands. Rub hands vigorously, making certain to include the wrists and forearms. Rinse hands with running water after use. Follow instructions for use as printed on the label.

The following will be made available:

1. A copy of MSDS (Material Safety Data Sheet)
2. A copy of the label

Declaration of Registered Chemist:

I John Zavras declare that when used according to the instructions on the label:

The above mentioned product is fit for the purpose described above, and that the compound will not deleteriously affect food or food products when used as directed.

That it is suitable for use in Export Registered Meat Establishments, and in other food preparation facilities, and complies with the relevant standards as set out in the Food Standards Code of the Australia New Zealand Food Authority.

Management Declaration:

I Leon McIndoe, declare that the above compound will be manufactured, labeled and contain directions for use as supplied in this application.

This document is rendered invalid by any changes to the formula, labeling, or instructions for use.
